Explaining the great need for better educational facilities for rural school districts, and requesting Salem residents to consider the expansion of the city's school limits as a grave problem for the future betterment of the community, H. C. Leonard, county superintendent of schools, discussed the entire proposal of consolidating Salem and Columbiana county township school districts to members of the Kiwanis club, Thursday.

Leonard explained the problems now being met by the "little red schoolhouses" of the townships, renewed conditions in present county schools and discussed the entire situation in an open forum with Kiwanians, who had as guests, members of the Salem board of education.

The fact that the unification of the Salem school district with that of Perry township, part of Butler township, and a portion of Salem township would mean the establishment of an entirely new school district, was pointed out by F. J. Emery, president of the city educational board, together with the statement that it will be the direct cause of an increase in Salem school costs.

Emery Explains Costs
Cost per capita at the present time in this city, Emery explained, was approximately $76. As stated by Leonard, the cost in Perry township was $178.88, Butler township, $57.31, and Salem township $72.09. The addition of the rural districts involved in Leonard's proposal would add to Salem's cost per capita, due to the increased cost of transporting pupils to the newly constructed schools here.

In turn, the townships would assume their portion of all outstanding bonded indebtedness now being held against the city, Leonard explained, while none of the townships has any school debts at the present time.

Together with this it will mean a great improvement to the city of Salem; it will add to its financial standing, increase trade from rural districts, and, as the leading point, give the suburban children an education equal to those of the city, it (Continued on Page 4)

COOKING OUTFIT AT CENTENNIAL

Electricity To Furnish Heat; Women Make
Gift

An electric cooking outfit has been installed in the shelter house at Centennial park, the park commission announced today.

The installation was made possible by the work and generosity of the women of Division One, Presbyterian church. A small fee will be charged for use of the outfit.

The commission wishes to take this opportunity to thank the ladies for their very useful gift and assure them that it will be greatly appreciated by patrons of the park," said a statement issued today.

"The park is now in shape for use by the public and the commission requests that everyone join in their efforts to protect the property and grounds from damage and vandalism."

Exchange of Ratifications of Lateran Treaty
Welcomed; Papal State Again Becomes Reality; Mussolini Plays Role

Rome, June 7.—The fifty-nine year estrangement between the Roman Catholic church and the Italian government formally came to an end today when Premier Benito Mussolini and Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, exchanged ratifications of the Lateran treaties providing for complete rapprochement between the Vatican and the state.

The head of the Italian government and the official representative of Pope Pius XI met in the "congregational hall" of Cardinal Gasparri's private apartment in the Vatican. It was the first time that Premier Mussolini, and the first time in almost 60 years that any Italian government official had set foot inside the walls of the Vatican palace.

Premier Mussolini, escorted by his aide-de-camps, motored to Vatican Hill from the Chigi palace shortly before 11 o'clock this morning. In Historic St. Damascus Courtyard of the palace, the papal Swiss guards, dressed in their traditional mediaeval uniforms, rendered the dictator military honors, and he responded to their greeting with a brisk salute.

The premier was taken into the presence of the papal secretary of state, who was awaiting his arrival in the congregational hall, a large severe room almost devoid of ornament.

First Cardinal Gasparri read the papal credentials aloud, in which for the first time since the break between church and state in 1870 a pope alluded to the king of Italy as "our beloved son." Following this reading, the treaty concordat, the financial convention between Vatican and state, and the formal ratifications of the Lateran accords were exchanged.

The papers signed personally by Pope Pius were printed on beautiful paper bearing the vatican mark, and enclosed in a red velvet cover emblazoned with the papal exchequer and embossed with the pope's signature in gold. They bore the date of May 30, 1929.

DEPUTIES RAID LIQUOR CACHE

Search Reveals Quantity Of Intoxicants Near
This City

Jesse Shepard, New Albany rd., three miles north of Salem, will be arraigned before Judge Jenkins, of Youngstown, this afternoon on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor, following his arrest last night by State Probation Inspector J. C. Huffman, assisted by Mahoning county deputies.

Huffman and assisting deputies raided the place operated by Shepard, located near his home on the Albany rd., Route 19, about 8 p. m. Thursday, and report finding 175 pints of liquor, a 15-gallon vat of beer, ready to be bottled, and one and one-half quarts of whiskey.

Search was made of several mines located near Shepard's home, of officers report, the whiskey being found in a 20-gallon keg, dug out of the ground. More liquor and beer was found in an out-house, in the rear of a refreshment stand operated by Shepard, officers state.

Huffman, who is making Salem his headquarters, since his recent assignment to this district, was assisted by Deputies Engelhart, Leonard, Parker, and Stone, of Youngstown.

Mansfield Inmate Faces Old Charge

Day, 20-year-old Mansfield inmate, today will be brought here Saturday to answer an indictment which alleges he shot Welch after the latter refused to go through with plans for a hold-up of an all-night restaurant.

Day is now serving a term for forgery.

Attorney Marries

Attorney Raymond Knapp, of Wellsville, and city solicitor for that city, one of the youngest members of the Columbiana County Bar Association and Doris Carney, a stenographer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Seese of Wellsville, were carried by the Rev. C. N. Church of the Lisbon M. E. church late Thursday afternoon.

"DANDY TRIP," LINDY SAYS AS HONEYMOON BOAT TAKES ON GAS

Anne Is Doing Cooking, Is Belief of Light Keeper
Who Sees Colonel Pull Up Anchor; Skipper
Aboard; Yacht Heads On Northward

Portland, Me., June 7.—A severe southeast storm, swept this section of the Maine coast line this afternoon causing mariners to express uneasiness for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride, aboard the power cruiser Mouette.

York Harbor, Me., June 7.—Continuing their yachting honeymoon, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride shortly after 8 a. m. today left Cape Porpoise in their 38-foot motor cruiser Mouette and headed east.

The "honeymoon yacht" anchored for the night, approximately a quarter of a mile off Cape Porpoise, which is 10 miles from York Harbor between Kennebunkport and Biddeford pool.

Lindbergh was seen from the Goat Island light today hauling up the anchor of the Mouette. Natives of Cape Porpoise who had put out in a small boat, saw Anne in the doorway of the cabin. The Mouette was headed toward the Morrow summer home at North Haven, 68 miles up the Maine coast.

Lindbergh told Hartley Philbrick, owner of the dock here, that he was having "a dandy trip" adding "we are going to cruise east from here." The Lindberghs are in no hurry to reach North Haven, however, for the beautiful Maine coast provides an idyllic setting for a honeymoon cruise, with the rays of the beaming sun dancing over the blue waters against a background of green hills. They have been loafing along Long Island Sound and the New England Coast, keeping just one jump ahead of newspapers.

"Lindy" has nothing to do but bill and coo for an unidentified skipper is aboard the Mouette, according to Captain Jim Anderson, the keeper of Goat Island light, who was the first person to sight the craft as it entered the inlet.

Apparently the filer's wealthy bride is doing the cooking, for Captain Jim saw no fourth person aboard through his powerful glasses, and there is hardly room for four persons on the craft.

The lighthouse keeper became greatly excited when, after a casual inspection of the trim motorboat, he identified two of its occupants as "Lindy and Anne." He quickly called to his wife and children so that they might get a glimpse of the world's most famous newlyweds.

Colonel Lindbergh, who was the only occupant of the Mouette visible as the craft neared the pier, was recognized instantly when the trim motorboat docked to take on gas. Weather-beaten seafarers of the village, their wives and children, and nautically-clad summer resorters flocked to the dock.

The flying colonel politely refused to answer any questions.

"Sorry," he said, "nothing to say," was his sole reply to queries as to where he was doing, where he had been, how he liked married life, how and where was the happy bride and what-not.

Lindbergh supervised the loading of 195 gallons of gas aboard the Mouette and shoved off briskly with a glad to have seen you" to the disappointed spectators.

VICTIM BROUGHT TO CITY HOSPITAL

Had Been Given "Lift"
From Salem Into Damascus

Raymond J. Harley, 22, of Royersford, Pa., died in City hospital at 12:40 a. m. today from injuries sustained when struck by a machine, on the Salem-Damascus rd., Route 19, one-half mile west of Damascus, late last night.

Harley was on a hitch-hiking tour to Chicago with Wilmer C. Berg, 24, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa. He was walking along the highway with his friend, when struck by a machine operated by Alex. Weizenecker, of Beloit, The accident occurred at 10:30.

Weizenecker, according to Berg, was blinded by headlights of an approaching automobile, and failed to see the hikers walking along the road. He was driving west, towards Alliance, the right front light of his machine striking Harley.

Knocked To Pavement
Harley was knocked to the pavement, the impact crushing his head. He was rushed to City hospital by Weizenecker, but failed to regain consciousness, and died two hours later.

The body was removed to the O. G. Stark funeral home this morning, and will be sent to Spring City for burial.

The Mahoning county coroner has been notified by Salem authorities, and will conduct investigations of the accident.

DIPLOMAS ARE PRESENTED TO SENIOR CLASS

111 End Scholastic Career
With 65th Annual Graduation

One hundred fourteen members of the graduating class of Salem High school were presented diplomas at the 65th annual commencement Thursday evening by F. J. Emery, president of the Board of Education.

Orations were given by eight members of the class and special music by the High school orchestra. The Girls' Glee club entertained. A prayer was given by Rev. C. A. Roth of the Episcopal church.

Keith Harsh, the first speaker, had for his subject "Commencement." He spoke of the friendships made in school and emphasized the fact that they will be of great benefit in later life. He also thanked the teachers for the help given to the class of 1929.

College Is Topic
"College An Asset," was the subject chosen by Miss Dorothy Lieder, the second speaker. A student who goes to college will have a greater earning capacity, will be broad-minded and generous and know the value of true friendship, according to Miss Lieder.

Our country's relations with foreign nations was discussed, by Miss Virginia Callahan and James Wingard spoke on "Outlawry of War." He said that before peace can be established war must be regarded as crime and must not even be considered to settle disputes between countries.

Miss Florence Davis in her speech on "Duties and Privileges of a Citizen" urged that each person appreciate his rights as a citizen of the United States and obey the laws so that we have a worthy and respected government.

Christianity Is Subject
"Christianity's Debt to Rome" was the subject of Miss Florence Shriver's speech. She stated that Romans received Christianity with open arms despite adversity.

"Our nation leads the world and is a land of hope, opportunity and freedom for all and yet the American people are indifferent and do not realize the injustice and lawlessness which is in our country" according to James Patten who spoke on "Whither America?"

"Business and industry dominate our lives and we disregard the laws," he continued.

Miss Helen Williams, the last speaker said that education means fulfillment. "Education is an investment that is never lost and it gives one an opportunity to be a spoke in the wheel of life," she stated.

CLEARED AWAY FOR RECONSTRUCTION

Settlement of the reparations negotiations between Germany and the Allied countries, anxious for some settlement of their claims, will clear the air for continued reconstruction in Germany. Peace has softened the hysteria of war-crazed minds and smoothed out the hatreds that flamed into existence in a few short years. But, it was decreed that Germany pay for the damage which she did on the continent and the high seas and until some satisfactory conclusion is reached concerning the settlement of the claims preferred against her, there will be a tension that will cause reconstruction to falter in its steps.

The agreement on the reparations annuities recently reached in Paris should lead to the evacuation of the Rhineland by Allied armies before the end of the year, according to belief of official circles in Germany. That will be a valuable service to a country which will be forced to meet huge payments to buy the good will of the world. The presence of foreign soldiers on German soil would serve to make the reparations even more galling than they will be under the most favorable circumstances.

The United States of the open hand, the forgiving heart and the well-fattened pocketbook will be the only creditor nation to emerge from the reparations conference without a real cut in her claims and the only country to receive reparations payments for a period of more than 37 years. This country emerges at the end of the negotiations with virtually the same claims presented at the opening of the conference. Clever manipulation of interest rates has made this possible and it has not escaped the notice of critical continental countries whose claims have been largely diminished.

Germany transgressed on the property of other nations and she must pay damages. The reparations annuities are believed to be a fair system of payment, although they will hold the nose of German industry to the grindstone for decades to come. It is the punishment which the world deems fitting to mete out and who can say that it is any consolation for the death of the soldiers who fought to check the unjust dominance of a strong nation over its weaker neighbors? Retaliation, however, should not be too harsh and the removal of Allied soldiers will be a step in the right direction.

And now Herbert J. Fahy, of Los Angeles, does things to Jensen's solo endurance air record by remaining aloft thirty-six hours and fifty-six minutes. In this day and age, air records are made only to be broken.

Mr. Raskob announces that the deficit of the Democratic national committee has been reduced to $350,000. John may not be much of a politician, but as a collector he is surely some pumpkins as a campaign chairman.

What Others Say

NEW MONEY FOR OLD.

It took some such cataclysm as an arbitrary decision to reduce the sheets in size to enable the United States government to accomplish a thorough-going reform in the designs of the paper currency of the country. The gigantic task of changing the designs, in the interest of simplicity and uniformity, selecting the paper stock, engraving the plates and printing and "aging" the new money has been successfully performed, and beginning about the first or second week in July, the new money will make its initial appearance in the banks. The task of distribution necessarily will be gradual, and federal notes will get into general circulation more rapidly than the national banknotes, but that is a detail of more interest to the government and the banks than to the people who want the new money for their common uses. The new currency will have a printed surface of 6 5/16 by 2 1/16 inches as against the 7 7/16 by 3 1/8 of the old form, which leaves the sheets larger than the paper currency of France, Great Britain and most other European countries, but the reduction is sufficient to be material, and the public is asked to be patient until the old bills have been permanently retired.

The government has issued no new bills of the old type since April 1, and as it still will be necessary to reissue used nation banknotes for some months after the new currency has appeared, some of our money may get pretty dirty before it is permanently exchanged for clean. But the exchange bids fair to commend itself unsparingly to the public in time. No less than eight or nine different portraits appear on the five dollar bills now in circulation, while with the new sheets the portrait of Lincoln always will mean a five dollar bill. So with all other denominations. Each can be distinguished readily by its portrait, with which the public is asked to familiarize itself, and the colors and designs are so unified and simplified that cashiers will be able to assort their paper money much easier than now. The new paper is tougher than the old and will better withstand grease and dirt, and the government will need be on its guard against the counterfeiting of newer designs.

About 900,000,000 pieces of paper currency are outstanding all the time, and the initial issue of new bills will consist of 912,000,000 pieces, most of them in the smaller denominations. The government is to be congratulated upon bringing about this desirable change in the paper currency which has been the dream of the treasury department for a great many years.—Boston Transcript.

LIGHTER DIET IS BEST DURING HOT WEATHER

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

With the first really hot day every housekeeper thinks of a change of food. Heavy foods and rich desserts seem too much for the season.

There are many delicious dishes which can be prepared with little effort. Salads, chicken, and vegetables in aspic and ice-box desserts add to the tempting qualities of the meal.

Salads made of fresh fruits and cheese, served with thin graham bread and butter sandwiches, form a well-balanced luncheon. Tea, coffee, milk or buttermilk will round out the meal.

There used to be a prejudice against canned foods. During the Spanish War the "Em-balm'd Beef Scandal" shocked the nation. But that was long, long ago. Such a thing could not happen now. Canned meats are not preserved with chemicals in these enlightened days.

Preservatives are unnecessary, because sterilization and improved methods of canning have done away with the need of drugs and chemicals. When you buy the products of some known establishment, you may be confident the food is just as pure as the label claims it to be. You know it is against the Federal Law to falsify a label and, if there were no higher motives than to escape the penalty of the inexorable law, the food would be as represented.

So, for your Summer meal you have the choice of many varieties of canned meat, fish and fowl. Then you have delicious cuts of dried beef and veal loaf. Salads can be made without the slightest trouble. Canned fruits and vegetables are at your disposal. The green stuff for the salads grows everywhere. The salad dressings come in bottles, ready for instant use.

Sandwiches with some of the canned materials for fillings, are quickly made. Delicious cheeses are on sale everywhere. Bottled beverages, above suspicion as to quality, are at your disposal.

You need not worry about the light meals of the hot days. The food manufacturers have made easy provision for you.

What about the healthfulness of these foods?

You need give yourself no concern on this score. In many respects they are more wholesome than the uncovered and unprotected raw foods sometimes sold. In nutritional value they equal the home-cooked and prepared foods.

The Stars Say —

For Saturday, June 8
WITH the dominant position of Neptune, both by lunar and solar aspect, it is probable that the day may prove to be notable for affairs of intrigue or conspiracy, albeit of a not sinister quality. The eccentric or singular may be expected especially in new ventures. Withal there are likely to be stubborn obstacles to overcome, with delays or disappointments. Personal affairs may be pleasant, although there may be small anxieties regarding correspondence.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of the singular and unusual with a trend of intrigue or subtlety in connection with new projects. There may be difficult situations to overcome, but the aid of friends may be counted on. A child born on this day may have some unique traits of character, which, however, may be balanced by practicality and stability. It may make friends who will be of assistance.

In hot weather you should not overheat your family. Make up in delicacy and attractiveness what the food lacks in gross quantity. It will satisfy the appetite and be better for the health.

Extra care must be taken on hot days to avoid contaminated food. If you proceed as I have suggested today there is no danger. Food precautions are important always, but particularly so in Summer.

Answers to Health Queries
L. F. D. Q.—Will crying cause my baby boy to become raptured?
A—No.

R. T. L. Q.—Where can I buy 1 per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment? My druggist does not carry it.

A—I would suggest that you have your druggist order it for you.

W. M. B. Q.—What effect does coffee have on the system?
A—Coffee is a stimulant and if not taken in moderation will play havoc with the nerves.

K. R. Q.—Will a teaspoonful of borax in the rinsing water harm the hair?
A—I doubt it.

S. F. Q.—What causes a substance to accumulate in the eyes over night?
A—It would be wise to have your eyes examined by a specialist.

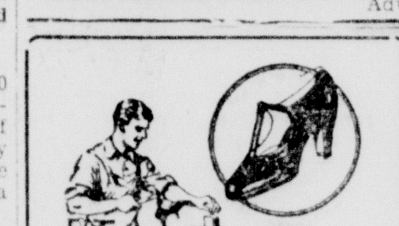

V. A. Q.—Would a girl of 16 years be susceptible to infantile paralysis?
A—Yes, but it usually occurs in younger children.

Be Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby is likely to wake you any night with that sharp cry which means just one thing—colic! Be ready. Keep a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria in the house. A few drops of this pure vegetable, pleasant-tasting preparation comforts a colicky, fretful or feverish baby in a jiffy. In a few moments your anxiety is over and baby's sleeping soundly again. And you've only done what your doctor would advise. He'll tell you Fletcher's Castoria doesn't contain any harmful drug—that it's safe for the youngest infant and effective for children of all ages in cases of constipation, colic, gas, diarrhea and those upsets when you don't know just what is the matter. Avoid imitations. Genuine Castoria bears the Fletcher's signature.

THE NEW WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC RANGES WITH THE AUTOMATIC "FLAVOR ZONE" OVEN

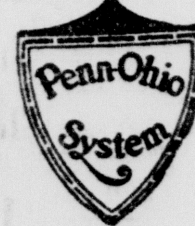

You never saw the equal of these new electric ranges. Except for setting the clock and the thermometer when you put the food in the oven (cold), you don't have to watch or touch a thing until cooking is completed.

No initial searing is required. No hand adjustments are necessary. No bustling to do. No water to add. For "Flavor Zone" cooking is entirely automatic from start to finish and there's no guesswork about results.

BUCKLEY APPEAL WILL BE FILED; LEGAL VICTORY

Government Prosecutor
Claims Time Limit
Has Expired

FORMER TREASURER LOSES HIS TEMPER

Declares Persecutor Will Go With Him To Penitentiary

Cincinnati, O., June 7.—Attorneys for ex-state Treasurer Bert B. Buckley, convicted would-be briber and alleged conspirator, today had a slight legal victory in the case public officials' apparently desperate fight to escape becoming a convict in the Atlanta Federal penitentiary.

Buckley, a Dayton man, is under sentence to serve two years and six months in jail and pay a fine of $5,000 for his connection with the "beer-brewery-bribery" scandal.

At a hearing in the United States court of appeals here late yesterday afternoon, permission was granted by the court to Buckley's attorneys, following them to file briefs in the government's appeal. It was specified, however, that the petitions be filed within a week's time.

Prosecutor Has Objection

Harold E. Maut, chief government prosecutor in the case, earlier this week, had filed a motion asking for an immediate commitment of Buckley to the Federal Bastille and dismissal of his appeal on the grounds that it had not been filed within the time limits set by Federal law.

At one point during the hearing yesterday, Buckley valiantly lost his temper for he jumped to his feet and shouted, "my persecutor will go with me if I am railroaded to the penitentiary."

He refused to elaborate on the statement.

During the arguments Buckley's counsel again attacked the evidence of John P. Eckhart, former assistant Federal prohibition commissioner of the Ohio-Indiana district, who was the government's "star witness" in the trial of the convicted former official.

It was charged that the jury was not allowed to see notes of Eckhart's which he had made of dictograph-recorded conversations with Buckley in which it was allegedly shown that Buckley attempted to bribe Eckhart.

Claim Notes Altered

Defense counsel claim these notes had been altered after they were taken.

Buckley's wife who was at his side throughout the six long days of the Federal court trial, was with her husband again yesterday.

After the hearing they entrained for their Dayton home.

Henry A. Williams, one of Buckley's attorneys, said in court yesterday that failure to file the appeal within the specified time limit was the fault of his office.

"Buckley should not be made to suffer for this," he contended.

Buckley's determined fight is apparently hopeless, most observers of the case declared.

How "Skinny" Girls Gain Weight Quick

Put on flesh in few weeks with new YEAST and IRON.

Your own druggist guarantees results—or pay nothing.

It seems incredible how fast Ironized Yeast adds pounds of good firm flesh to women and men, children of all people. Doctors know the value of vegetable iron and yeast in building up and improving the blood. Ironized Yeast in a highly concentrated form, contains all the food building properties of vegetable iron and iron taken separately. What is more, it is ironized yeast that so quickly transforms pale, lifeless, faded complexions into the fresh, smooth, lovely skin of health. Wrinkles disappear, hollows fill out. No wonder thousands of men and women pour out their praise of the marvelous, health-giving effects of Ironized Yeast.

Don't go around skinny, tired and down-looking when Ironized Yeast will build you up and bring back that fresh color so quickly. Safe, pleasant-tasting tablets. Do not upset the stomach or cause constipation.

Get it at any drug store today and get a free booklet. If after this booklet you are not delighted, you may have your money back immediately.—Adv.

Fisherman Drowns When Boat Sinks

Cleveland, June 7.—When his fishing boat overturned off the Lake Erie coast here early today, Joe Segal, 27, was drowned. John Novak, Segal's companion, succeeded in swimming ashore. Segal was pulling in a net, Novak said, when the boat capsized. The body was recovered about an hour later by firemen.

STATE SUGGESTS SEWAGE ACTION

Leetonia Plant Cannot Be Operated Properly At Present

Leetonia, June 7.—Elimination of swamp areas and breeding spots for mosquitoes in the vicinity of Leetonia has been urged in a report filed with the council of Leetonia by the State Department of Health, following an inspection of the Leetonia territory recently by inspectors of the State Department of Health.

The report calls attention to the fact that the municipal corporation is responsible should Cherry Valley run become polluted, and may be forced to pay damages to down stream property owners.

In order to make corrections, it has been suggested that Cherry Valley run be dredged to such a point that the treatment works of the village may function as intended. The village made the original investment for its construction.

State Makes Suggestions

"The situation convinces the department that the village of Leetonia faces a grave situation concerning the operation of its sewage disposal plant, because of the relative elevations of Cherry Valley run," the report says.

The increased flow in Cherry Valley run, such as occurs during even an ordinary rainfall raises the general stream and ground water levels to such an extent that the sewage treatment works cannot function, and this situation continued approximately eight months in the year.

Whether the stream will be dredged to eliminate the situation referred to by the report will be determined by the village officials of Leetonia at an early date, it is said.

Swarthmore Confers L. D. Degree Upon First Lady

MRS. HERBERT HOOVER faced a thousand persons assembled in the Magill outdoor auditorium at Swarthmore College at the 57th annual commencement, and was invested with the maroon and white cape and the honors of the degree of Doctor of Letters.

MRS. HERBERT HOOVER

The degree was conferred upon the First Lady, who wore already upon her academic hood the golden tassel of the doctorate, by Dr. Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore, at the commencement exercises, when 112 were graduated.

Parents, faculty members, students and guests rose in enthusiastic applause as Mrs. Hoover accepted the certificate, while Mrs. Ethel Hempton Brewster, former dean of women at the college, placed upon her shoulders the maroon-lined cape of the degree.

"Lou Henry Hoover," said Dr. Aydelotte in addressing her, "because your concern for the common good and your high ability enabled you to add in two careers, because you share a partnership with your illustrious husband in public life and in national and international affairs, and because at the same time, in the midst of busy life, you have found the time to make high contributions to scholarship, I confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Letters and welcome you to fellowship with Swarthmore men and women, a fellowship to which your distinguished husband already belongs."

Mrs. Hoover, using a silver spade, turned the first sod on the site of the Isaac H. Clothier Memorial Library.

New York—Lower Manhattan—financial center of the world—will be invaded by the home.

This announcement was made by Albert Mayer in charge of construction of a 40-story building to be known as Battery Tower, which will cost $10,000,000 and be the first unit of a $50,000,000 residential city to be built adjacent to the battery.

Social Affairs

L. C. B. A. MEETS

Mrs. Max Schwendeman, Mrs. Clarence Mellinger, Mrs. Earl Divilly, Miss Helen Kaley, Miss Mary Alice Bartram and Miss Elizabeth Ready were associate hostesses at a social meeting of the L. C. B. A. Thursday evening at K. of C. hall, Broadway. They served lunch.

Five hundred and twelve were pleasures of the evening. Eucher prizes went to Mrs. George Lippert and Mrs. Emma Rodgers, while the five hundred prizes were shared by Mrs. Herbert Fischer and Mrs. Rose McLaughlin. Miss Mary Haldeman won the guest prize.

Plans were made to hold a card party June 14.

PICNIC AT PARK

With their mothers and friends hostesses, pupils of the first and second grades of St. Paul's Parochial school, taught by Sister Aurelia, enjoyed a picnic Thursday at Centennial park.

A dinner was a feature and sunny summer flowers added a charming touch of color to the table.

Rev. Maurice Casey, pastor of St. Paul's Catholic church, and his assistant pastor, Rev. Vincent Jones, were special guests.

Games and contests entertained the children, and prizes were awarded. The balloon game was very attractive.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

A marriage license has been issued to Edward T. Fogio of Wellsville and Mrs. Wallace L. Fogio of Wellsville, and Deputy Commissioner of Motor Vehicles of Ohio and Miss Virginia Shea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Shea of Wellsville. They are to be married at Wellsville by the Rev. E. J. Gracey.

William R. Hawkins of New Waterford, a farmer, and formerly residing at East Fairfield and Laura E. Evans, a widow of East Palestine, obtained a marriage license. They will be married by the Rev. Chalmers Cope.

JENNINGS AVENUE CLUB

Roses were used to decorate the table when Mrs. Curtis Walker entertained her associates of the Jennings Avenue club at a 1 o'clock luncheon Thursday at her home, Goshen rd. Visiting occupied the afternoon and fancywork was a diversion.

On Thursday afternoon and evening, July 11, the members will have a picnic and entertain their husbands at supper.

LEAP YEAR CLUB

Mrs. Fred Dahlke, Damascus, was included in the guest list when Mrs. Robert Auld received associates of the Leap Year club Thursday afternoon at her home, East High st. Select readings added interest; fancywork was a diversion and the hostess served lunch.

A meeting in two weeks will be with Mrs. John Green, Washington st.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

As guests of Mrs. Slankin, hostess, members of the Thursday Afternoon club met yesterday afternoon at her home, McKinley ave. The guests were interested in the usual club pleasures.

A meeting in two weeks will be with Mrs. William King, East Sixth st.

LUNCHEON-BRIDGE

Mrs. James R. Hill, of East Liverpool, entertained at a luncheon-bridge Friday at the home of Mrs. Myra Woodruff, Goshen rd. The party honored Miss Mary Alice Goodwin, of East Liverpool, who will be a June bride.

REBEKAHS TO MEET

Election of officers will claim attention at a meeting of Home lodge No. 110, Daughters of Rebekah, Friday evening at the hall, Broadway. A social period with cards and lunch will follow the meeting.

ELLSWORTH AVENUE CLUB.

On Thursday afternoon members of the Ellsworth Avenue club met with Mrs. Henry Hollabaugh, Ellsworth rd. An informal social time occupied the hours. In two weeks the members will meet again.

Mrs. C. Y. Bair this city, and daughter, Mrs. Lucie Roller, of Canton, have returned from Bristol, Va., where they attended commencement exercises at Sullins college. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Roller's daughter, Willetta, who attends this college.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young and Mrs. Mary Albert of New Brighton, Pa., attended the graduating exercises Thursday evening at Salem High school. Mr. and Mrs. Young's grandson, Robert Fred Hartman, is a member of the class.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Weaver, Jennings ave., moved to Barnesville Friday. Mr. Weaver has been teacher in the Salem Business college for some years. Their daughter, Miss Vera Weaver will spend the summer at Homeworth.

Mrs. Maria Farmer, who has been visiting relatives here, will return to her home in Alliance Friday evening.

HAPPY HOUR CLUB

Honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Kenneth Pearce members of the Happy Hour club had a dinner Thursday evening at a tea house in Columbiana. She was presented gifts.

After the dinner the members went to the home of Mrs. Lester Harold to spend the evening. The home was prettily decorated in yellow and pink tones.

Cards afforded pleasure and prizes went to Mrs. Pearce and Mrs. Howard Jeffries.

In two weeks the members will meet with Mrs. Carl Ruhl, Jennings ave.

FLOODING-MEADOWS.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss Mary Ellen Flooding and Alfred Meadows, which was an event of last Saturday at Mt. Lake, Fla. They will make their home at La Bella, Fla.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flooding of Medina, formerly of Salem, and is well known here. She is a teacher by profession and taught Spanish in the high school at Clearwater, Fla., last year.

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Keller and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McKee entertained club associates at dinner Thursday evening at the Green room. Then members went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keller, Tenth st., and spent the remainder of the evening playing bridge. Mrs. R. F. White and W. L. Fults received high scores.

In two weeks Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fults and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fults will entertain.

HONOR TWO

Ohio Belles club associates were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Walter Hartsock Thursday evening at a dinner at the Quaker Tea House, McKinley ave.

Miss Nellie Buck, whose marriage to Kenneth Kelley will be an event June 12, was showered with gifts. Mrs. Hartsock is a recent bride, and she was given a miscellaneous shower.

JOLLY JESTERS CLUB

Members of the Jolly Jesters club went to Washingtonville Thursday evening and were guests of Miss Ada Falcon.

The program of entertainment included contests, music and fancywork. The prize offered went to Miss Laura Corbel. A new member was added. Lunch was served.

On June 21 the members will meet with Mrs. M. S. Bates, East High st.

MISS FLUCKIGER HONOURED.

For the pleasure of Miss Ethel Fluckiger, this city, bride-elect of John E. Casey, Niles, teachers at the East Fourth st. school, entertained at a luncheon Thursday at the school. A motif of pink and white was used in the decorations. The table was lighted with pink tapers. Miss Fluckiger was presented a gift. Her wedding will be an event of July 2.

FAREWELL PARTY.

The girls employed at the Murphy store complimented Miss Madeline Bernington with a party Thursday evening at her home, Newgardens st.

Miss Bennington left Friday for Columbus to make her home. The honoree was given a hairkerchief shower. The guests retired to Columbiana and had refreshments at a confectionery store there.

Toledo Man Killed By Gangsters As Little Girl Watches

Toledo, O., June 7.—While his 11-year-old daughter looked on, Earl S. ("Ike") Bracker, 38, alleged Toledo liquor baron, was "put on the spot" and shot and killed today in the driveway to his fashionable residence by two men, who, police say, were rival gangsters.

Bracker, who, police say, has been engaged in the liquor traffic since the advent of prohibition, was said to be the "highest-class" bootlegger in Toledo.

He returned from Detroit early this morning and after he had housed his car in the garage, he was accosted by the two men, who had stepped from a high-powered touring car parked in front of his home.

An argument ensued. Awakened by the men's voices, Rita Jane, Bracker's 11-year-old daughter, went to a window overlooking the driveway.

Between heart-rending sobs, the little girl told how her father, with his hands in the air, had pleaded for his life, and how immediately after the plea, a shot rang out, and her father fell with a bullet wound in his heart.

but were bound in a covering of blue velvet.

Following the formal exchange of ratifications, a protocol outlining settlement of the principal differences between the church and the government was drawn up, and in the presence of witnesses signed by Cardinal Gasparri and Premier Mussolini. This document was duly sealed with the Italian crest and that of the Holy See, and the ceremony, re-establishing the relations severed a generation ago, was completed.

Premier Mussolini and the Cardinal then retired for a brief conference, the nature of which was not revealed, and both then consented to pose for photographs on the first loggia of the palace near the cardinal's apartment. No motion pictures were allowed, however.

Coincident with the signing of the pact, the bronze door of the palace, which had been kept half closed since 1870, was flung wide open, signifying the resumption of relations. At the same time, the vatican post office was opened for the sale of papal stamps, signifying recognition of the vatican territory as a separate state, henceforth to be known as vatican city.

The Swiss guards were formally installed as guardians of the new vatican territory and commendatore Serafini took up his duties as governor of vatican city.

Vatican City, June 7.—Pope Pius XI extended his blessing to the entire world today in connection with the exchange of ratifications of the Lateran treaties.

The pontiff sent a telegram to King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, which was the first to be dispatched from the post office of the newly created papal state—Vatican City. The telegram follows:

"The first telegram we send from the vatican city post office after the exchange of ratifications of the Lateran conventions is to thank God that the ratifications are now an accomplished fact; also, to impart with a whole heart the great fatherly apostolic blessing upon your majesty, the queen, the royal family, Italy and the world."

Leaps From Train

Washington, June 7.—The world's altitude record for seaplanes came back to the United States today. Cabination of the instruments in Lieut. Apollo Soucek's plane by officials of the bureau of standards showed he reached a ceiling of 38,560 feet several days ago. The old record was 37,995.

maintained throughout Columbiana county. These have one teacher for eight grades, from six to 60 pupils, creating an almost impossible situation, according to Leonard.

Teachers must classify students according to grades, but the classes are too small to maintain the class interest and rivalry which are exemplified in city schools. Discussions of scholastic work are limited; the student is given a great handicap, when he should be given the best possible education," the county superintendent explained.

Perry Pays $18,000

At the present time, he stated, Perry township is paying to the city of Salem, $18,000 a year for education of pupils in city schools, 125 being in elementary classes and 95 in the high school. Four thousand dollars, which the township board would receive, was its school system according to state regulations, is lost to the township, because of the number attending school here.

The apparent simplicity in adding Perry township to the Salem district but difficulty in making the expansion to include Butler and Salem townships, was brought up by Emery, it being explained that the city could without great difficulty make the former expansion, but would involve great cost upon itself in the latter two.

According to Leonard, townships are considering two plans to solve the problem, confronting them, educationally. The first is the construction of a large centralized school on the Winona rd., a short distance from Salem; the second is the plan of expanding Salem's district.

It was explained, through maps, that Salem was the trading center of the three townships; the city would add no great amount to its taxes by adding the townships, and that it, in turn, would benefit by the greater inflow of suburban business.

One-room schoolhouses are rapidly being eliminated throughout Ohio, Leonard declared, but Columbiana county has fallen far behind other counties in this type of progress. Only one township, Fairfield, has built a centralized school.

The matter, if brought to a further discussion, will finally result in petitions being circulated in the townships, to request that Salem enlarge its school district.

These petitions will be presented, the Salem board of education, which has the power to either reject or accept the proposition. The subject need not be brought before the people for public election, it is said.

Later meetings will be held on the matter in the city, no final decision having been reached by any Salem civic group or body. The board of education as yet has not considered the matter as a group, but will meet later this month, with Leonard and Van Blaricom, for discussions of more extensive length.

Paris Alderman To Imitate New York

Paris, June 7.—"Will a little child lead them?" is what political wiseacres at the City Hall are asking about Y. Georges Prade, aged 25, the youngest alderman in France, who says his ambition is to make Paris like New York.

Prade recently made his debut in politics by defeating a Communist. On the aftermath of his election he said that he would fight to further modernize Paris.

"This City should be more like New York," he asserted. "Reserve urban byways for business and encourage Parisians to live in the suburbs. Traffic regulation is inadequate. Street surfaces must be speedways. Underground passages are necessary for pedestrians." Prade is alderman for the "City Universitaire" ward, so called because of the international dormitories, including one for America, where Sorbonne students live.

"Me and the boy friend"

YOU know them, bless their hearts. A pair of youngsters, really, in spite of their self-reliant air and their fast-vanishing teens. The girl—slim, clear-eyed, merry; the boy—flippant, a bit arrogant, full of secret, earnest plans for success.

They like each other. They go to the movies together, dance, quarrel a bit. They don't believe in early marriages. But her eyes shine when she speaks of him. "Me and the boy friend."

One of these days, suddenly, they'll be grown up. Man and wife, those fearless youngsters. A home to plan, life to face. A budget, a savings account, economies.

They'll make mistakes, but they'll learn quickly. She'll begin to be canny in the spending of money—to question prices and values. She'll begin to read about the things she plans to buy, to find out all she can about them. She'll become a regular reader of advertisements.

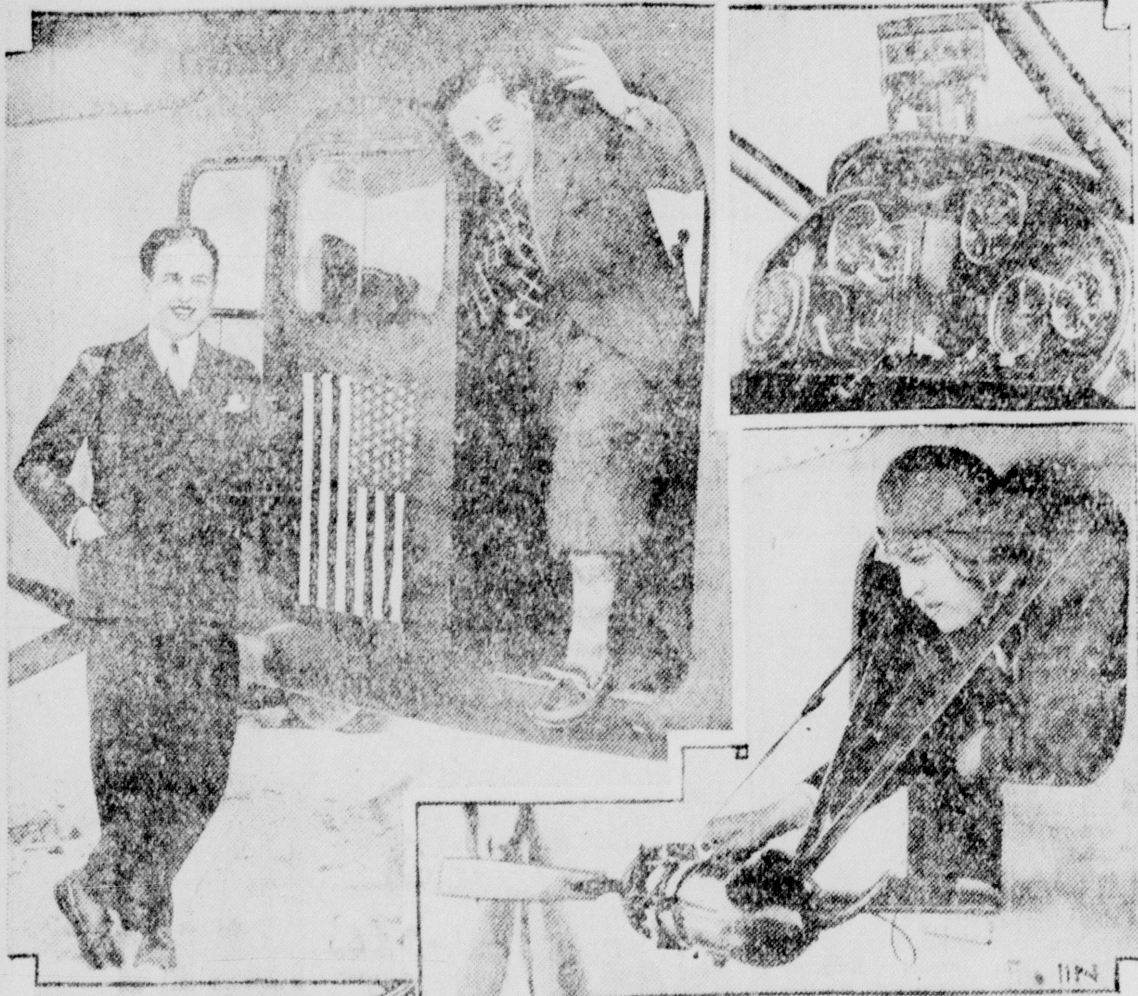

They'll help her to become the capable, wise housewife she wants so much to be. They'll tell her what clothes are best and what prices to pay for them. They'll tell her about the foods to buy, the electric appliances, the linoleums and draperies. They'll help her, as the advertisements in this newspaper can help you.

And she'll meet her responsibilities and fulfill her duties easily and well. She won't become a tired, flustered, inefficient drudge. Because her home will be modern, attractive, well-run, she'll keep young—through the speedy years she'll retain much of that shining-eyed, merry frankness. She and the 'boy-friend.'

Advertisements are wise counselors for housewives, young and old.

Some Intimate Scenes at Old Orchard

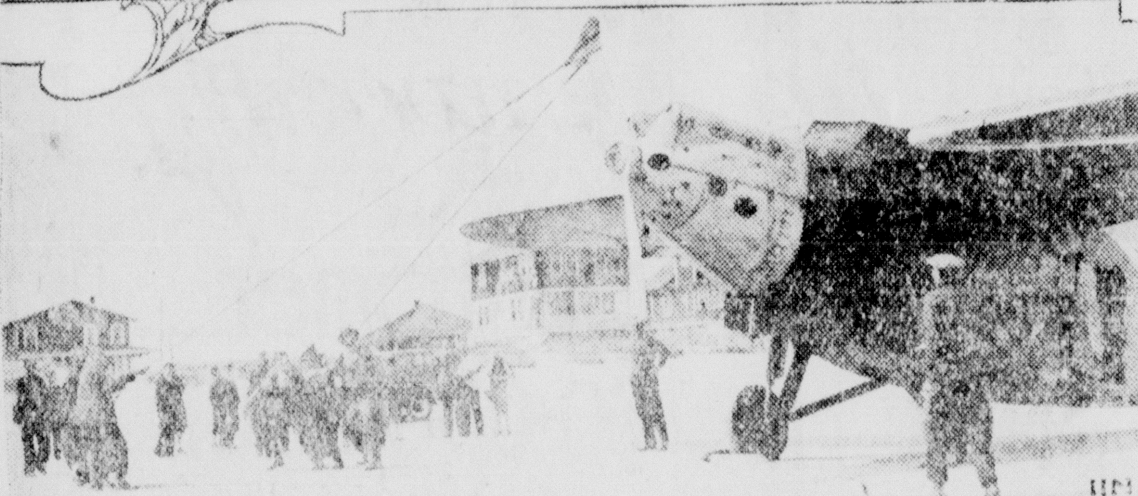

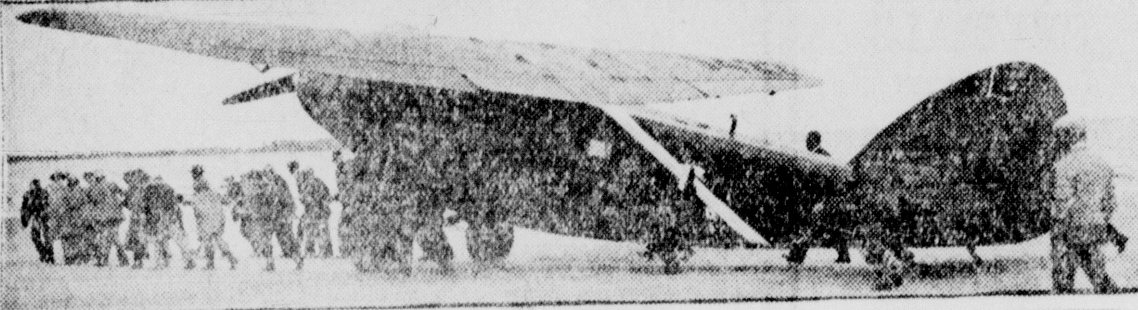

Left, Rene Lefevre and Jean Assolant, French fliers of the "Yellow Bird," are shown standing beside the Stars and Stripes, mascot on their proposed flight to Paris from Old Orchard, Me., where they are now. Upper right shows the instrument board on the American plane, "Green Flash," which will play such an important role in the trans-Atlantic flight to Rome, Italy, to be made by Lewis Yancey and Roger Williams. Working on the French plane, lower right, is Rene Lefevre, navigator of the "Yellow Bird," who's testing her radio generator in anticipation of a speedy hopoff.

French Flyers Set to Leave for Paris

Held to their base at Old Orchard Beach, Me., the three French flyers, Assolant, Lefevre and Lotti grow more impatient daily to be off on their long flight to Paris. The top view shows their big "Yellow Bird" being dragged into position on the beach to hop off if the weather man says okay, while below willing hands aid in cranking the motor for them to take off or a short trial flight.

PLANE HOUNDS AID SEARCHERS FOR CONVICTS

Trio Still At Large In Ohio Wilderness; Seen By Woman

LITTLE HOPE HELD OF CAPTURE SOON

Man Afraid to Turn Big Dog Loose; Feared For Lives

Circleville, O., June 7.—An all-night search by a posse of 100 men, which had an airplane and blood hounds at its disposal, today had failed to uncover the three escaped Ohio state penitentiary convicts who were reported cornered in the "Devil's Backbone" region along Harris Creek in Pickaway county yesterday afternoon.

The prisoners escaped from the Junction City brick plant of the penitentiary, near New Lexington, Tuesday afternoon. One other convict was shot in his attempted escape with the trio of desperadoes.

Mrs. Mary Robinson, a native of Pickaway county, residing one mile east of here, espied the convicts yesterday when she was dumping trash.

She notified police, who informed penitentiary officials after making sure the men talked to the description of the escaped convicts.

Blood Hounds Used

Blood hounds were rushed from the Junction City brick plant and officials of the Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus came here. Before daylight more than 100 men, armed with clubs and guns, were engaged in the man hunt.

An airplane was ordered here, but the pilot, even though flying as low as possible, was unable to locate any of the convicts as they are believed to have hidden in tall wheatfields on adjacent underbrush. They are:

Henry Scharr, 19, Cleveland, serving two to seven years for receiving stolen property; Raymond Crooks, 31, Toledo, serving one to 15 years for burglary and larceny and Clarence Ragland, 24, Toledo, serving two to 12 for automobile stealing.

The search was being continued today but little hope was held for the men's capture as they are believed to have slipped through the posse under cover of darkness.

Stanley Starr, 20, Cleveland, who attempted to escape with the trio, was shot and probably fatally wounded by a guard during the delivery. He is in the penitentiary hospital at Columbus. No hope is held for his recovery, even though he has remained alive since Tuesday.

Afraid of Dog

Circleville, O., June 7.—Because Louis McClaren was afraid his Great Dane dog would chew the man to bits, one of the three convicts for whom the greatest man hunt in the history of Pickaway county is being conducted is still at large today.

McClaren, "out on his own hook" in a search for the men, ran across two of them in a woods last night.

His Great Dane dog routed the men. One of them ran against a wire fence, and, according to McClaren, turned a complete somersault. He jumped up and made good his escape.

McClaren explained that he kept the dog on the leash because he was afraid the Dane would chew the men to bits.

McClaren's attitude was justified when he related that he had just paid a $25 doctor bill for a man who had been bitten by the large dog, and McClaren didn't want any more doctor bills.

World Churchmen To Meet at Boston

Boston, June 7.—The representatives of nine Presbyterian and Reformed denominations of the United States and Canada will meet prominent ministers and lay leaders of Europe and other parts of the world here on June 29 on the occasion of the quadrennial gathering of the Council of the Alliance of Reformed Churches throughout the world holding the Presbyterian System.

The evangelical groups from overseas will come from England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Yugoslavia, Hungary, South Africa, Australia, and the Hebrides.

The program consists largely of plans to better religious conditions in various parts of the world, Christian Education, questions pertaining to youth and the home and international relationships.

"I Should Have Had Konjola In First Place!"

Grateful Man, 71, Freed From Double Ailment By New Medicine, Praises It Highly

"Although I am seventy-one years old, Konjola won a splendid victory in my stubborn case," said Mr. John Dean, 160 Clarendon avenue, Columbus. "My liver and kidneys were in a bad condition for some time. I was subject to dizzy spells, and spots appeared before my eyes. I had to arise three or four times a night due to bladder actions. There were pains in my back, and my ankles swelled. I could hardly put my shoes on. Constipation was another source of worry."

"I began to improve with the first bottle of Konjola, and by the time I had finished the sixth bottle I was a well man. My kidneys and liver act normally. Dizzy spells and night rising vanished. The back pains are gone, and I feel immeasurably better. I highly endorse Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Salem, O., at J. H. Lease drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. Adv.

pected that some interesting discussions will be heard.

King Asks Formation of New Cabinet

Since the resignation of Stanley Baldwin as Prime Minister of England, King George expects Ramsay MacDonald, Labor Prime Minister, to form a new cabinet. Philip Snowden, left, is expected to be returned as Chancellor of the Exchequer and either James H. Thomas, right, or Arthur Henderson, below, is expected to be called as Foreign Secretary to succeed Sir Austen Chamberlain.

Leaves Marine Corps

Major E. H. Brainard, new vice-president of the Curtiss Flying Service, reads his honorable discharge as Chief of Aviation of the United States Marine Corps. His resignation of the branch of service over which he was head since 1925, became effective immediately and he will join a private aviation crew.

Washington College Has Model Dairy

Pullman, Wash., June 7.—It must needs be a well-mannered cow that enters the portals of the new Washington Agricultural college cow barn when the $200,000 structure is completed here for the department of dairy husbandry.

The fortunate cows selected to make up the 100 elite bovine occupants of the model dairy must know "Emily Post." Each cow will have her private drinking cup built into her hygienic steel stanchion and she will be compelled to forego the temptation of snatching some hay from her neighbors' ration as it rolls by on roller feed conveyors.

An ultra-modern milk house will be a part of the building, providing a dressing room for the hired hands, a private office for the herdsman and an equipment sterilization room. All of which is designed to produce highly educated milk.

$35,000 LIQUOR HAUL CAPTURED BY GUARDSMEN

Flashing Light Tips Federal Men to Oncoming Whiskey Boat

Cleveland, June 7.—A cargo of alleged Canadian whiskey and ale, valued at about $35,000, was seized by U. S. coast guardsmen here early today when they intercepted a tug, The Neptune.

It was the largest lake rum seizure here in recent years and but for accident, coastguard authorities admitted, The Neptune probably would have landed her cargo safely.

Notified by telephone shortly after midnight that a fishing boat had capsized and two men were drowning, Capt. John Daly, of the coastguard service, put out with a small cutter and a crew to rescue them.

Light Flashes on Shore

Coastguardsmen believe The Neptune had confederates on shore. As the cutter passed the East Ninth st. dock a red light flashed from a point on shore. Capt. Daly immediately suspected that watchers on shore had mistaken the government craft for a rum running boat and were signalling it.

The cutter put out its lights and cruised quietly. Presently the unlighted Neptune loomed out of the darkness, its engines running smoothly.

"Heave to!" Capt. Daly shouted and a few minutes later the coastguardsmen boarded the tug. One man on the captured boat jumped over board and it has not been learned whether he succeeded in swimming ashore.

MURDERED BODY OF GIRL FOUND

Detroit Cigar Counter Clerk Is Attacked On Leaving Hotel; Remains Found In Alley

Detroit, June 7.—Gagged and bound and with her battered head wrapped in a towel, Patricia Fe Klair, pretty 22-year-old cigar counter clerk, formerly of Milwaukee, was found dead early today on an iron grating in an alley beside the hotel where she worked.

Police believe the girl was murdered as she left the hotel. Blood stains near the scene indicated that her dead body had been dragged some distance.

Two men were seen moving away from the body by Arthur Rowland, a guest in the hotel.

Police investigation revealed today that Miss Fe Klair had been annoyed recently by the attentions of several guests of the hotel.

Diplomas, Licenses To Marry Received By Grads Same Day

Annapolis, Md., June 7.—Romances of four years of midshipmen days are making the naval academy chapel the most sought out place in this romantic town these June days that launch young admirals on their careers.

Within six hours after they had received their diplomas at the graduating exercises, eight couples were married, and there are many more scheduled to follow during the next few days. Among those who sought a parson were:

Lieutenant Melvin G. Brown, U. S. M. C., and Alma Eurlia Focht, of Dayton, Ohio.

Boston Originated Telephone Emblem

Boston, June 7.—The familiar blue insignia of the Bell telephone system found its origin in Boston in 1889, just 22 years after the invention of the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell.

Although the first sign only displayed the words "Long distance Telephone," improvement and changes brought about the present result, which was first placed into general usage in 1921. Angus S. Hubbard, was the originator of the "Blue Bell" sign.

At first this was simply the long lines emblem, but in five years, by 1894 there were so many stations in the country where the special instruments and apparatus of the Long Lines could be found, that it was deemed advisable to publish a special National Telephone Directory of stations connected by the metallic circuit. The blue bell appeared on its cover.

Ruth, Gehrig Home Run Trust Threatened By Simmons, Foxx

Athletic Duo Tied In Race For Circuits

BY LES CONKLIN
New York, June 7.—The firm of Ruth and Gehrig, which has held a monopoly on home run hitting in the American League for several years, is threatened with serious competition today from Simmons and Foxx, an enterprising Philadelphia concern.

Each pair of home run twins has a total of 22 homers. Simmons being tied with Gehrig for the league lead with twelve and Ruth and Foxx having ten apiece.

Four batters by the Athletics' line-up featured the Mackmen's second year triumph over their arch rivals the St. Louis Browns, to 4 count yesterday. Simmons contributed two doubles, and in six runs in all and Foxx belted a pair of triples.

Cleveland Trims Yankees
Meanwhile the Yanks' winning streak of five games was snapped at Cleveland, 9 to 7, because Gehrig was unable to deliver any kind of a blow on four different occasions and a hit meant runs.

The fast-flying Athletics now lead the champions by 7 1-2 games. Pittsburgh increased its lead over St. Louis in the National League by 2 1/2 points when Kremer beat the Braves, 4 to 2, while the cards again went to the Giants, 5 to 4. The latter contest was a personal battle between the rival first basemen. Cronley, with two singles and a home run, scored three runs and gave home the other St. Louis run. Terry accounted for three runs with a homer and a single. Benton and Had did the throwing.

Cubs Drop Tilt
Brooklyn kicked another one off the Cubs 6 to 6, half of Chicago's line being unearned. Homers by Grubbs and Malone helped the Cubs overcome a four-run lead.

Benge pitched another nice game for the Phillies, beating May of the Reds 2 to 0 when a hit by Benge Thompson with Benge on base, bounded into the bleachers for home run.

Washington apparently had been beaten as the result of a four-run rally in the seventh but Hadley hit for a pinch hitter during the uprising and Ad Laska, his successor, was pounded in the ninth for three runs and the game.

The White Sox ended their slump by outslugging the Red Sox, 9 to 3.

ROMANCE OF AMERICAN PROGRESS

The first trolley car to operate in the streets of a large eastern city in 1886 was broken into bits by an angry populace who considered it a menace to the lives of its citizens. The people of that day were slow to recognize the service which the first trolley could render them.

Folks who are quick to recognize the benefits of regular savings banish the menace of poverty from their lives. The Citizens Savings Bank adds a stimulus to saving by paying interest every six months at the rate of 4% per annum.

"LAND OF SILVER FOX"

"Land of the Silver Fox" at the Royal teems with vigorous action, while the setting of the frozen wilderness of upper Hudson Bay affords a background of rare beauty.

The story gives Rin-Tin-Tin splendid opportunity to display his skill, daring and agility. It offers color and emotion for the human cast, too. Lella Hymans and Carroll Nye as a pair of lovers held apart by treachery arouse sympathy, while John Miljan and Thomas Sant-chie are formidable and provocative villains.

The story of "Land of the Silver Fox" has to do with the silver fox trapping industry, concerning itself especially with the efforts of the manager of a trading post to thwart the long-delayed marriage of his ward to a young trapper. The scheming post-manager connives with a notorious killer to do away with the boy and steal a stock of pelts, but through the watchfulness of Rinty the scheme is frustrated and the obstacles in the lovers' path cleared away.

"BLACK WATERS"

"Black Waters," an all-dialogue mystery melodrama shown for the first time in this city at the Grand theatre, yesterday will be the feature tonight and Saturday.

Here we have the murky waterfront of San Francisco, a mystery ship to which have been summoned several persons dining at a night club, sinister figures slinking through the murky fog and thrill upon thrill in the cabin of a death ship afloat in the midst of the bay—certainly an intriguing and colorful location for a deep mystery.

Prominent in the cast is the veteran James Kirkwood, as the mysterious "Tiger" Larrabee; Mary Brian in the only girl role; Captain John Loder, a new leading man from England; Frank Reicher and Robert Ames, both of the speaking stage and Lily Hamilton, one of the premier comics of the screen.

"THE AWAKENING"

"The Awakening," Samuel Goldwyn's first starring vehicle for Vilma Banky, which opened last night at the State, is one of those pictures which prove again that simplicity of story and beauty of production are, after all, the best recipes for a good picture.

The story pictures Vilma Banky as the acknowledged beauty of the little village of Pre d'Or, sought by many suitors and quietly rejecting them until she has become a symbol of purity and beauty for the whole village. Simultaneously with the annual village festival, a troop of Uhlans, led by Walter Byron as Lieutenant von Hagen, arrive in the village and Byron a champion Don Juan, determines to make a conquest of the village girl. The late scenes, enlivened by peasant costumes and rustic humor, present an excellent contrast with the grim bloodshed of war in the latter half of the picture.

Von Hagen, on the verge of the success he wishes, discovers that he has fallen in love with the girl whom he had believed only a passing fancy. The discovery comes too late, for Marie has already disappeared in disgrace, with her grandfather dead of shame. Their second meeting during the war, in the midst of a heavy bombardment, is signalized by their coming face to face with the girl's former peasant lover who drove her out of town. The dramatic reconciliation and the thrilling rescue affected by this one-time enemy brings the film to a sensational close.

Irving Berlin's theme song, "Marie," dedicated to Vilma Banky, is used extensively in the musical accompaniment with great effect. Peasant tunes and Uhlans marching songs are also appropriately introduced.

Aged Denver Man Asks For Hanging

Denver, June 7.—"You're an officer, you can't fool me," said Mike Mee, 73, recently when he met Patrolman C. D. Jeter, plainclothes man.

"Guilty," said Jeter, "but what of it?"

"Take me to the police station. I want to be hanged," was Mee's astounding request.

As the Denver police force tries to be accommodating, Mee was taken to the jail and presented to a police sergeant.

"But what have you done to be hanged for?" Mee was asked.

"Nothing," police were told. "Don't you know that you have to kill a man before the state can hang you?" he was asked.

"Oh, why quibble over that technicality," Mee responded.

"Search him," ordered the sergeant. The search revealed that under Mee's hat brim, in his shoes, in his pockets and under his belt, Mee had $830 in currency, $220 in gold, and $3.64 in silver.

"Take $100 of that to bury me with, and keep the rest for yourself," Mee told Patrolman Jeter. Mee was locked up for observation.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

—By Wanda Barton

Tommy's mother tried to put excitement into her voice as she told about Jack-and-the-Beanstalk, for the hundredth time, so that Tommy would keep his eyes fastened expectantly on her face, and his mind off the coddled egg she was feeding him. Tommy is one of those little cherubs who doesn't like to eat, and the only way of cramming nourish-

Race from Robbers Lands Man In Jail

Detroit, June 7.—Steven Novick, 32, trotted out on an enforced marathon with two men believed to be robbers behind him.

Steven figured that if he kept up his pace eventually he might run on to a policeman. But he ran until he was well exhausted and still no policeman.

So, Steven decided to call out the fire department. He broke the glass and a fire alarm box and pulled the hook.

Seven fire companies responded and the police came along with other curiosity seekers.

Steven was locked up charged with turning in a false fire alarm—the firemen couldn't find the two other marathons.

Washerwomen Passe

Asheville, N. C., June 7.—Pity the poor washerwoman! She is soon to live only in the past alongside of the horse and buggy and old family toothbrush.

W. J. Henning of Toronto, president of the Laundry Association of the United States and Canada, says modern laundry methods are fast driving the washerwoman out of business.

After 5,000 analyses, a German chemist was unable to find more than a tenth of a grain of gold in a ton of sea water, proving its extraction impractical.

COLUMBIANA

A. J. Thomson and Leo Holloway, who attended the American Legion Convention at Paris in 1927, have been awarded bronze medals recently by the French government, these medals being given to each visitor present at that occasion. These medals illustrate the friendship of the French and American nations.

P. Morris, manager of the Columbia County Motor Club, was the speaker at the Monday evening meeting of the Columbia County Club. Mr. Morris' talk was on the lines of the Safety campaign, which was conducted this year. He was very helpful and interesting. He was introduced by C. W. Crawford, chairman of the program committee. Vice president, C. E. Kinn, again presided in the absence of President H. W. Hammond. P. Miller has sold his lot on North Main St., just north of the E. C. Barker property, to E. C. Moore, who plans to build a home there.

The Children's Day program of the Presbyterian Sunday School has been postponed until Sunday, June 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Westlake and family moved Monday from the Herman house on South Elm St. to the new house recently purchased home on Spruce St.

Miss Homer E. is reported ill at her home on Middle St.

Ed Scholl, Petersburg, was a Columbian business caller Monday evening.

The June meeting of the Lutheran Ladies' Society was held Wednesday afternoon at the church.

Handy Workers Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Homer Smith, South Main St.

Wednesday afternoon the employees and proprietors of Columbia stores and business houses closed their first Wednesday afternoon for the summer.

Mr. B. J. Harmon of Youngstown will speak to the Young Ladies' Bible Class at the Presbyterian Sunday School Sunday morning.

Mr. R. E. Brungard and daughter Margaret are visiting for several days with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Shaeffer, at Sharon, Pa.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Mrs. Clarence Esterly and daughter, Marie de Leetonia were Columbia business callers Tuesday afternoon.

Murray Ramsay of Dayton called on Columbia friends Tuesday afternoon.

The following from Columbia attended the dedication ceremonies of the official Ohio American Legion picture at Warren Monday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Mollenkopf, Homer Culp, H. M. Hoover, S. E. Tidd, William Miller and Raymond Gieckler. National Commander McNutt was the speaker of the evening, the meeting being preceded by a parade.

Miss Mary Buzard and Mrs. L. J. Garrard represented the Women's Home Missionary Society of the local M. E. church at the district meeting held in East Palestine Tuesday and Wednesday. Others attending included: Mrs. E. T. Coyle, Mrs. John Coyle and Mrs. F. H. Grove.

The Burke Feed store is moving to their newly constructed building on the rear of the H. H. Lehman lot, and workmen have begun the work of demolishing the old building, preparatory to clearing the location for the new Lehman hardware store.

Workmen are constructing a "tunnel" in front of the Home Savings & Loan building, preparatory to rebuilding the upper front wall. Several bricks from this wall fell to the street late Saturday night, and it is necessary to reconstruct the upper part of the structure.

H. W. Hammond and J. A. Crawford returned Tuesday from Dallas, Texas, where they attended the convention of Rotary International. Miss Mary Hammond returned with them from Indianapolis, where she had spent a week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Shingler.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Smith have sold their home "Green Acres" at Willowcrest stop on the Y. & S. to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Galle of Youngstown, possession being given soon. The Smiths will erect a new house on an adjoining property.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Esterly were at Idora Park Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Elba Wilhelm will entertain the members of the Young Ladies' Club at her home on Spruce St.

Use Plane To Hunt Walrus and Caribou

Chicago, June 7.—Into the desolate far north by land, water and air-plane, Bruce Graves II of New York, George Coe Graves II of New York, sons of prominent families, will lead a hazardous expedition this summer in quest of rare specimens of walrus and caribou for the Field Museum here. The two also are financing the venture.

The party will sail June 19 from Seattle aboard the schooner Dorothy. It is expected they will be compelled to cruise in icy waters as far north as Wrangell Island.

In announcing the undertaking, Stephen G. Simms, director of the museum, explained the walrus is one of the hardest animals to prepare for preservation and no specimens ever have been satisfactorily mounted.

To overcome this difficulty, the hunters will take along John Jones, as an expert taxidermist. It is planned to mount the group in life-like attitudes at the museum in a setting showing the midnight sun and the fields of floating floes.

The second stage of the expedition will entail an overland trip across Alaska from Nome to Fairbanks, to reach the caribou hunting ground. It is in this part of the trek that the airplane will be utilized.

Rockford Flyers Plan New Effort

Rockford Ill., June 7.—Undaunted by their failure last year and confident the route they will fly will become the future commercial airway from America to Europe, Bert Hassell and Parker D. Cramer, pilots of the ill-fated plane Greater Rockford which was forced down in Greenland, will attempt another flight this summer over almost the same course, under the auspices of the Guggenheim Foundation for the advancement of aviation.

Hassell and Cramer will be accompanied on the flight, which is scheduled to start about July 1 by Elmer Etes, Rockford youth, and L. H. Fredericks Rockford editor.

Stopping places have been arranged at Green Island off the coast of Newfoundland; Iqviut, Greenland; Reykjavik, Iceland; Trondheim, Norway; Stockholm, Sweden and Copenhagen, Denmark.

The flight is scheduled to start from New York because of the interest of the Guggenheim foundation. A tri-motored plane will be used. The purpose of the flight is to prove the feasibility of the northern route to Europe.

New 'Alarm Clock'
Kansas City, June 7.—Lee Stingley of this city has an ideal "alarm clock," one which functions accurately without winding. Since early spring a woodpecker has beaten a tattoo on a tin cap over the chimney at the same time every morning. Not only Stingley but neighbors, too, are awakened.

Revive Old Custom
Freiburg, Baden, June 7.—An ancient custom, revived last year after many decades, was again carried out this year in St. George's.

in the Black Forest, when the "St. Jorgen ride" was held.

About 200 horses were brought to the parade to receive the church blessing. The custom goes back many centuries.

SAVE WITH ICE

"How fresh your salads look!"

YES, and I prepared them hours ago," replied the proud new bride when showing her new ICE refrigerator. That is one of the important advantages of ICE refrigeration—foods can be kept for hours, still retaining that "just-prepared" look—and taste. Almost an entire meal can be prepared long in advance where there's good ICE refrigeration in the home.

Why ICE Keeps Foods Better
ICE provides ideal refrigerating conditions—a cold sufficiently low to keep foods sweet and safe, and an atmosphere that is not too dry, but just moist enough to retain in foods all their natural juices and flavors. In a good ICE refrigerator, there's no interchange of food flavors and odors. Remember, the cost of ICE is very low—you can always afford to use all you want. Just tell us to keep you well supplied.

GEORGIA'S GOLD RUSH IN 1829 IS RE-ENACTED

Many Still Believe Gold Lies In Hills In Part Of State

Dalhousie, Ga., June 7.—Days of 1829 when this region witnessed the greatest gold rush, are being re-enacted on a small scale today as many, who still believe in the existence of gold, await the prospectors' trek again into the hills of Northern Georgia. Once again they are looking for gold.

It was in 1829 that the cry "Georgia Gold" reverberated around the country and caused thousands to flock southward in search of the gold of the rainbow.

ships were to be encountered in a vain fight with Mother Earth for her golden dust.

Ten years after the first big strike the government established a United States mint here and during its 24 years' existence it coined gold pieces valued at more than $6,000,000.

The Georgia rush was superseded by the discovery of the metal in California, and with the beginning of the Civil War the federal mint was closed, bringing almost to an end the search for gold in this state.

LEETONIA

A very pretty home wedding surrounded by the season's flowers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crothers, when at 2 p. m. Wednesday, June 5th, Miss Charlotte Crothers, their daughter, was united in marriage with Wallace E. Fails, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fails. The Rev. J. D. McBride, pastor of the Presbyterian church officiating.

The bride was beautiful in a modish gown of Alice-blue georgette with tan accessories. She is a graduate of the Newell W. Va. High school, and of Kent Normal school. She taught school in Wellsville and Leetonia, having taught a very successful term last year in the fourth grade south side school.

Miss Mary Heizenroedher of Pittsburgh, Pa., a cousin of the bride was bride's maid and was gown in an ensemble suit of tan georgette. Kenneth Fails a brother of the bridegroom performed the duties of best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a delicious three course dinner was served, after which the happy young couple left on an automobile trip, keeping their destination a secret.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Crothers, Thomas Crothers, who during the entrance of the bride party played the bride's chorus from Lehigh; Jean Crothers, Mr. and Mrs. William Fails, Kenneth Fails, and Miss Emma Emerson of Leetonia, the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Kruse, Mrs. E. K. Crothers, Miss Mary Kruse of Mineral Ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Fails of New Waterford, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Weikart of Detroit, Mich. Returning, Mr. and Mrs. Fails will be at home after June 11th in their newly furnished home on Reservoir Heights Leetonia. Mr. Fails is employed at the Buick company of Columbiana.

A very enjoyable reunion was held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Mullen at 119 Summit street. This is an annual affair and the ones attending are young men who have been former residents in Mrs. Mullen's home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Toote of West Middlesex, Pa., Dr. and Mrs. J. M. King and daughter, Phronema of Pittsburgh, Pa., Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Kelley, Dr. E. Nelson, and Miss Margaret Spencer all of Jamestown, N. Y., Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Henderson, of Kenmore, W.

L. Shupp, of Cleveland, and John W. Clemmens of Struthers. A very enjoyable time was enjoyed with an elaborate dinner served.

John Young has been brought to his home here from the Central Clinic hospital of Salem, where he was operated on for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crook of Kline Mills, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Peppel on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grace of Pittsburgh, Pa., are visiting in the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Walter King. They also attended the commencement exercises of the Sharon High school. James King was one of the graduates.

WHO'S WHO IN SALEM
J. Troy Cope, general manager of the Electric Furnace Company. Mr. Cope is one of Salem's leading citizens. As manager of one of Salem's best and well-known manufacturing plants, Mr. Cope has been more than successful. Ever since this firm started in Salem it has had a steady, healthy growth. We would not be surprised that some day The Electric Furnace Co. will be Salem's largest factory.

The steady growth and the success of this company is contributed to the manner in which it has been managed and to the many capable assistants at the head of various departments.

Mr. Cope was unanimously selected to head next year's Community Chest campaign. We were pleased with this selection, as it practically assures the success of 1930 drive. We are glad to have men of Mr. Cope's ability take an active interest in Salem and consent to head this most important community drive.

YES, SIR, WE'LL TAKE THAT TIRE! Not much good to you any more. Looks like it's apt to blow most any time. But we'll take it in on a brand new Silvertown or Silvertown Deluxe. Then you won't be worrying any more! That's a fine proposition, isn't it?

HERE'S some good news . . . for keen tire buyers.

For a short time only . . . we're offering motorists of this city a real trade-in proposition on tires.

Our used tire stocks are low. We want more. So we've decided to accept used tires in trade for brand new Silvertowns . . . just for a limited period.

Here's how our proposition works: Perhaps the tires on your car are getting old. Just bring them to us. We allow you good money for old rubber. We'll fix you up with brand new Silvertowns . . . then deduct the value of your old tires from the bill.

And when it comes to tires . . . you just can't beat Goodrich Silvertowns. Take our word for that. We've sold tires for a long time . . . and we know the kind of stuff that Silvertowns are made of from first-hand experience.

Why not come in and talk it over . . . we would like to meet you anyway . . . just to get acquainted. And we'd like to have you get this proposition in detail . . . and without delay.

When can we expect you—today?

HERE IT IS! The famous Silvertown, tire standard of the country. Made of stretch-matched cord, cured by the special water-cure process used only by Goodrich, and finished with the famous, deep-bitting, road-gripping Silvertown tread that everybody knows! Come and see it!

There's a dirty ring around your washtubs

It comes from the hard water you use to wash clothes in. Soap and hard water combine to make scum. The scum collects dirt. Part forms a dirty ring. Much gets into the fabric of the clothes. It makes them hard to wash snowy white.

But soften the water with Melo and no scum forms. No dirty ring. No grayish white clothes. Melo and water is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It saves soap, too, from 1/3 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. It makes soap more effective. It makes clothes white. Get it at your grocer's.

An EXTRA truckload of POTATOES from ONE acre sprayed with Pyrox

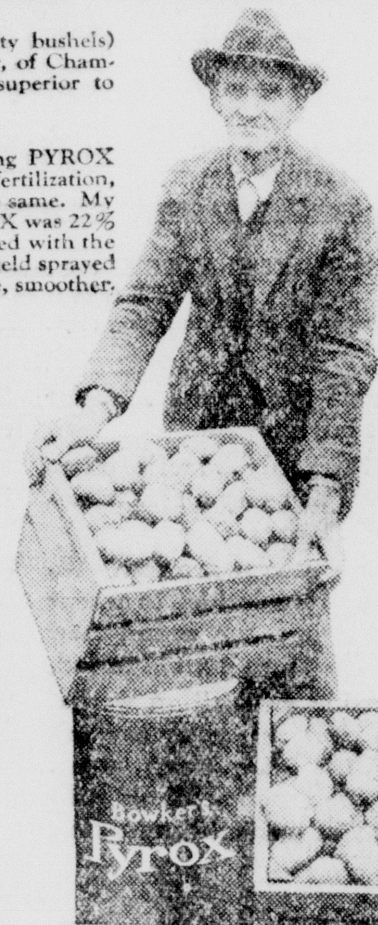

AN extra truckload of potatoes (seventy bushels) convinced Mr. Chris S. Newcomer, of Chambersburg, Pa., that PYROX is vastly superior to home-made spray mixtures.

Mr. Newcomer writes: "This season I made a test comparing PYROX with a home-made mixture. Seed, fertilization, cultivation, and soil conditions were the same. My yield on the potatoes sprayed with PYROX was 22% more than my yield from the field sprayed with the home-made mixture. Potatoes from the field sprayed with PYROX were more uniform in size, smoother, and cleaner in appearance.

"PYROX is easy to use—takes only a few minutes to get ready to spray and eliminates nozzle trouble. Stays on the vines through hardest rains (this season was unusually wet). After several years' experience with home-made Bordeaux and other copper mixtures I am thoroughly convinced that PYROX is superior to any spray I have ever used."

CHRIS S. NEWCOMER, Chambersburg, Pa. Nov. 1, 1928.

PYROX, a combined insecticide and fungicide, is prepared with scientific accuracy under constant laboratory check. PYROX kills bugs, prevents blight and disease, and stimulates plant growth. Safer and more effective than home-made mixtures. Use PYROX on your potatoes and other crops. Come in and get the new complete "Spray Guide" FREE.

Mr. Chris S. Newcomer, of Chambersburg, Pa., who tested PYROX and a home-made spray mixture side-by-side in the same field, and found that his yield from an acre sprayed with PYROX was 22% more than his yield from an acre sprayed with the home-made mixture.

Foreclosures Are Filed

Three petitions in foreclosure have been filed in court by the Potters Savings & Loan Co., of East
Liverpool, through its counsel Frank E. Grosshans.

Judgment and foreclosure of mortgage is sought against John R.
Danner and others on a claim of $1,489, secured by mortgage on lot
56 Oakmont Land Co.'s addition,
St. Clair township.

In the case against Thomas
Enochs and others of Maplewood, judgment for $1,935.42 is asked and the foreclosure of a mortgage on lot
56 Hemeland addition, East Liverpool.

For a claim against John H. Fultz and others, judgment for $2,536.90 and interest is asked, and foreclosure of mortgage on part of lot
7 McKinnon's Ohio City addition
East Liverpool.

"Sewer" Cases Settled.

Two $5,000 "sewer" damage cases against the City of Salem have been disposed of in common pleas court, one being dismissed by Judge W. F.
Duncan in common pleas No. 2 and a verdict for $500 returned in another. The verdict was in favor of William R. and Florence Jackson.

The case filed by John and Mary Cuntan has been dismissed without prejudice by the court at the costs of the plaintiff for lack of prosecution.

This cause had been assigned for trial and the plaintiffs failed to appear.

Divorce Filed

On four occasions, Olive
K. Vaughn, wife of Clifford K.
Vaughn, Wellsville, tried to commit suicide by taking poison and inhaling gas, according to a petition for divorce filed in common pleas court by Vaughn against his wife. They were married at Lisbon July 18, 1927.

Extreme cruelty is made a ground for the action, Vaughn relating that as late as May 31 his wife took a dose of chloroform, and that when he summoned a physician his wife threw an ice pick at him, threatened him then called police and had him arrested.

While under arrest, Vaughn asserts that his father-in-law through the police insisted that he give his wife a check for $40.

Vaughn declares that the actions of his wife are interfering with his business, and a decree upon final hearing is sought. The court has granted a temporary restraining order against Mrs. Vaughn from interfering with the business of her husband.

Decree Is Entered.

A decree has been entered in favor of the plaintiff in the action of Virginia L. Feiger against Anna

Walker and others to sell entailed real estate, and the court has found the property to be worth $19,000.

The court has ordered a sale of the land in question as referred to in the petition and has appointed Attorney H. W. Hammond and Elmer T. Coyle as trustees, with their bond being fixed at $15,000.

Jury Fails To Agree

After being locked up for four hours a jury failed to arrive at a verdict in the case of Henry Shonts against William S. Lindesmith, as executor of the estate of the late J.
W. Lindesmith of Haverhill township. The suit was to recover a claim of $1,428 and interest for services claimed to have been rendered by Shonts.

The court then ordered that the case be continued, and it will be assigned for trial
again later.

Judge Issues Order

Children of Mrs. Margaret Part-low of Salem that have been in her custody since she obtained a divorce from her husband in September, 1923, has been ordered by the court to turn the custody of the children over to her former husband, James Partlow. Later the court restrained
Mrs. Partlow from removing the children from the county. This order has been modified since the father has been granted the custody of a son and a daughter.

SCARFACE AL IN JAIL CONTROLS CHICAGO GANGS

"Master Mind" Still At Head of "Army" Is Official Belief

Chicago, June 7.—From his cell in Holmesburg prison in Pennsylvania, "Scarface Al" Capone, the "master mind" of gangdom, is controlling puppet-like, the figures in Chicago's reputed $75,000,000 a year vice, gambling and liquor syndicate, a survey of the situation here revealed.

Sitting on the throne temporarily and unwillingly vacated by the gangster chief, is his chief aide, "Lit" Jack Guzik, business man of the organization.

The "peace treaty" mentioned by Capone as having been completed before his arrest for carrying concealed weapons, attended in Atlantic City by "Bugs" Moran, the Aelios and other gang leaders, divides the city of Chicago into well bounded territories.

Urges Lull In War

Capone, it has been reported, impressed upon the other men the necessity of a lull in the warfare for the good of everyone all around. The gangster chief pointed out that the new Jones law was ousting the little fellows and that to survive, there would have to be an agreement among the big gangsters.

As it has been during the past few months, Capone told the gathering, liquor caravans from Detroit and Canada have been "knocked off" not only by police and federal agents, but by "hi-jackers."

Hopes that "peace" had been established, however, were rudely dashed within a week after the pact was supposed to have been established by the killing of two men, one a detective and the other a well-known racketeer.

Capone advocated settlement of petty differences by means of an arbiter, similar to the manner in which Judge Landis sits in on baseball. It is reported that E. J. O'Hare, former St. Louis attorney and associated with Capone in his dog tracks, might be slated for the job as arbiter.

Territory Divided

Capone and Guzik, under the treaty, are to have everything south of Madison street, which includes the entire south side. Moran is given the north side for operations with a western boundary, and the Aelios can operate west of that boundary. The "loop" or downtown section, is admittedly open with anybody's say so to run speakeasies and liquor parlors.

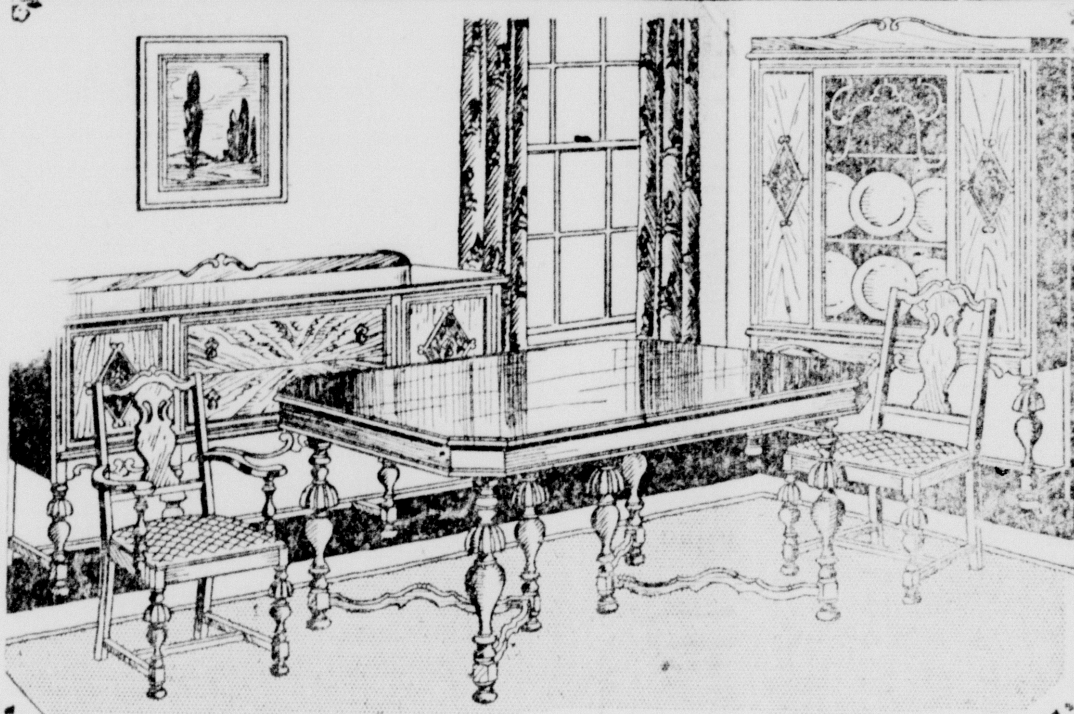

The peace treaty of Capone was seen as a means of the crafty gangster to further his own ends. His organization considerably weakened by the Killings of Anselmi, Scallie and Guinla, needed time above all things, to get on its feet again. By invoking the treaty, Capone is giving his organization time to again become "air-tight" until such a time as it can combat any new gang war and come out of it ahead.

San Francisco—Approximately 78 billion cubic feet of natural gas was wasted in California oil fields during 1928, the report of a survey conducted by Inspector C. C. Brown of the railroad commission disclosed today.

SOME ONE SIMPLY HAD TO DO IT!

Women couldn't tolerate much longer the idea of beautiful hosiery giving such short service.

Something had to be done! Something has been done! We offer you a new, lovely, sheer hosiery that gives longer wear.

It is Dextdale "Silk-Sealed" hosiery! "Silk-Sealing" means that every pure silk thread is sealed—made smooth and strengthened. Runs will not start easily. Perspiration acids cannot penetrate and ruin the fabric—nor will water drops leave spots. It has the high lustre, the clear coloring, the even knitting of the most expensive hosiery.

Yet Dextdale is really modest in price!
